

Staff conference on nursing, midwifery and healthcare courses

Programme

- 9.15am Registration and refreshments
- 9.30am Welcome and an introduction to healthcare at Middlesex
Professor Kay Caldwell
Head of Institute of Nursing, Midwifery and Social Work
- 9.45am Healthcare Sciences
Neville Hall
Director of Programmes, Biomedical Sciences
Find out about our Healthcare Science courses and how they are being used to train the next generation of healthcare professionals in:
– Cardiac Physiology
– Audiology
– Neurophysiology
– Medical Engineering
– Rehabilitation Engineering and Biomedical Science.
- 10.30am Midwifery
A new look at midwifery – what the profession is really like: its challenges, rewards and opportunities.
- 11.00am Tea and coffee break
- 11.30am Adult, child and mental health nursing
Nicky Lambert
Director of Programmes, Pre-registration Mental Health Nursing
Marion Taylor
Associate Professor and Director of Programmes, Nursing
Nursing is the largest profession in the UK, with thousands applying to Middlesex each year. We will look at some of the latest workforce developments that will impact upon the future for prospective students and dispel some of the myths around adult, child and mental health nursing.
- 12.30pm Q&A from morning session
- 12.45pm Lunch/Optional Tour
- 1.30pm Successful applications
Caroline Sargisson
Associate Professor, Recruitment and Selection, Professional Programmes.
Tips and guidance to help you to support your students with subject specific applications.
- 2.30pm Close

Staff conference on nursing, midwifery and healthcare courses

Wednesday 3 December