The programme is studied over three years full time, three years with two summer placements (thin sandwich in China) or four years if the option of a 12 months placement is taken in the third year (thick sandwich in China). Part time students study the programme over a maximum of six years.

The programme is divided into study units called modules and modules are either 15 or

To gain a BA (Hons) degree title a student must gain 360 credit points (480 if on thick or thin sandwich) of which 120 must be at level six, i.e. year 3. Full time students will study modules totalling 120 credits each year while part time students will take between 60 to 90 credits per year.

There are four compulsory modules in the first year (level 4). These modules are designed to give a solid grounding in business and management as well as in Mandarin and bring all students to a standard level of competence to pursue further study in the subject. Post-A-Level students will study six compulsory modules.

At the end of the second year, full time students may opt to take a year's placement in China before returning to complete the final year of study.

In the final year (level 6) students will study five compulsory modules designed to advance skills and knowledge appropriate to graduate level in topics fundamental to managerial decision making. Students will also choose optional modules to a maximum of 30 extra credits. Post-A Level students will study four compulsory modules and 30 credits in optional modules.
