

F1 Academic Integrity

- a) Middlesex University is committed to operating in an ethical way in every area to ensure the highest possible standards of decision-making and accountability (MU Ethics Framework Statement 2014).
- b) The University Strategy (2017-22) has been developed to ensure our students learn about and develop a professional and ethically-informed skillset based on fundamental values and principles such as trust, honesty and integrity. This is because being able to work in a professional and ethical way is a highly valued graduate attribute. As part of this development it is fundamental that our students know how to learn from and acknowledge others' work in the process of creating their own unique pieces of academic work – and to be truthful about their own contribution.
- c) The University recognises that academic integrity is a set of learned skills, with honesty, fairness and respect for others and their work at the core. The university will support and guide students to learn the necessary skills through education and reinforcement of learning, the promotion of core values, enabling policies and the appropriate use of technology
- d) In order to demonstrate academic integrity, students must produce their own work, acknowledging explicitly any material that has been included from other sources or legitimate collaboration. Students must also present their own findings, conclusions or data based on appropriate and ethical practice.
- e) Academic misconduct is a breach of the values of academic integrity, and can occur when a student cheats in an assessment, or attempts to deliberately mislead an examiner that the work presented is their own when it is not. It includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism, commissioning or buying work from a third party or copying the work of others.
- f) The University deals with breaches of academic integrity through instances of academic misconduct. A finding that academic misconduct has occurred is a judgement based on available evidence, the standard of proof being the balance of probability.
- g) These Regulations should be read in conjunction with the Policy and Procedures for Academic Integrity and Misconduct.

F2 General principles

- a) The University treats the decision as to whether minor errors, poor academic practice or unfair and/or dishonest academic misconduct has taken place as a matter for academic judgement¹ and the penalties applied (see Table F5) will vary according to the individual case and the seriousness of the offence.
- b) All students will be registered on the on-line Academic Integrity Awareness Course. Students should aim to complete this course before the end of the first year of study. The course is available on myLearning.
- c) The University recognises that undergraduate students (Levels 3 & 4) who are new to Higher Education may need some time to learn how to acknowledge sources properly. Therefore, it operates an 'academic induction period' during which the focus of the University's response to signs of academic misconduct is to educate students in regard to appropriate academic practice and academic integrity rather than to penalise unacceptable academic practice. This applies to plagiarism and collusion only. It does not apply to other forms of academic misconduct where penalties will immediately apply. The academic induction period does not apply to any reassessment.

- d) When submitting work for summative assessments students will be required to complete a coversheet which includes an acknowledgment confirming that they have not plagiarised; copied material; embellished fabricated or falsified any of the data; nor have they colluded in producing the work nor submitted commissioned or procured work.
- e) If academic misconduct is suspected in relation to work submitted by a student, in the interest of helping students to avoid continued acts, cases should be investigated as soon as possible.
- f) Cases of suspected academic misconduct should be evidenced and documented before the appropriate procedure is instigated. Where appropriate a Viva should be conducted to demonstrate the student's understanding of the subject matter.
- g) In place of a provisional grade for the work submitted the students will receive notification from the marker that their work is under investigation for Academic Misconduct. A Holding Grade of U will be recorded in the student record.

F3 Professional Courses

- a) Where a professional body imposes its own standards in relation to professional conduct these will be considered in addition to the University Regulations. Students who fail to meet the requirements of the professional body may not be eligible to gain the professional qualification or recognition regardless of their academic achievement.
- b) Following the completion of the University's Academic Integrity and Misconduct procedures, a proven allegation of misconduct may be referred to the appropriate professional body or the University's Fitness to Practise procedures which may result in a further penalty being applied.
- c) Fitness to Practise is a separate and additional procedure. If a student is following a course which has employer links it may be necessary to inform the employer of the proven academic misconduct. Where this is applicable, students are advised to consult their programme handbook.

F4 Guidelines for penalties of academic misconduct

- a) The minimum penalty imposed shall normally exceed that which would follow if the student had merely failed the assessment.
- b) The penalties listed in Table F5 must be taken as indicative of the maximum penalties which may be imposed.
- c) All confirmed offences must be recorded on the student's record as grade P. This grade to remain throughout the student's registration at Middlesex University and to be replaced on formal documents by grade 20.
- d) All records of disproved offences must be deleted from the student record.

A student may appeal against the decision of the Assessment Board to impose a penalty. See Policy and Procedures for Academic Integrity and Misconduct and University Regulations (Section G).

As a result the examples given should be used as a guide to help staff identify procedures, but there will always be an element of academic judgement in determining the level of misconduct and the appropriate action to take.

F6 Monitoring and Review

A record of all proven academic misconduct cases will be sent to the Heads of Department and Deans of School/Faculty on a monthly basis in order to allow them to identify and take action on any areas of concern. An annual Report on Academic Misconduct will be received by Assurance Committee.

F7 Policy and Procedures
