A range of studies linked to the students' itinerary of visits and activities will be introduced as well as other topics relevant to IELTS. Students will be encouraged to research further and write about what they have learned in their weekly journal and to discuss this in class and with their host families.

Teaching and Learning Strategies:

The teaching consists of interactive presentations by the lecturer on examination techniques necessary for the IELTS test, and practice sessions on writing, listening, reading and speaking. This will be delivered through daily sessions of three hours over a period of three weeks. An important element of this module is the completion of non-assessed homework and the feedback/follow-up in class when students are made aware of areas of weakness. At least one hour of homework is given every day focussing on developing the students' academic writing skills. Students are expected to take part in class/small-group/one-to-one interchanges, and informal feedback is given by the lecturer.

Notes for students:

This timetable may be changed, according to the needs of the class, especially towards the end of the course.

Please make sure you arrive on time as this is an intensive course and there is a great deal of work to cover.

You will be given homework after most classes which should be handed in on the date specified by the teacher.
