London

We invite you to Voices of the Future: AI, Oracy and the Skills That Matter our annual Teachers and Advisors Conference, taking place on Tuesday 7 July 2026, 10am–3pm at Middlesex University.

Together, we will explore:

- Key future challenges facing learners and schools
- How AI can be used safely and thoughtfully to enhance classroom practice
- The pivotal role of oracy in building confident, collaborative, future ready learners.

In partnership with Debate Mate and the MDX Department of Education, the day will feature practical workshops, classroom-ready strategies, and insights from innovative educators and researcher.
